Predicting Plays: One way to predict the events of a play is to review the list of characters. The names and brief descriptions of the characters can usually give you an idea about the story. Review the following list of characters from Part Two of Brian's Song. Then use each character's name or description and your knowledge of the story so far, to think of an event or situation that might involve that character. Write your ideas in the chart.

Possible Event
Nurses
Hotel Official
Player, Gale's new roommate
Mr. Eberle, hospital official
Doctor who gives Brian anesthesia
M.C., master of ceremonies

Based upon your prediction about each of these characters, what do you think Part Two of the teleplay will be about?
